THE interest taken in Mr. HOAD-LY by the Republican press of the country should be transferred in part to the other candidate for governor of Ohio, lest the public forget there is such a man in the race.

THE contract for constructing the branch railroad by the capital syndiente has at last been let out and the work will probably begin soon. The delay in starting the new state building has been annoying, but the job biggest part of this sort of work fell to is a colossal one which require, much him, yet there was small complaint of time and a great deal of patience.

THERE is bad feeling between Pittle. THOMPSON . and President ARTHUR growing out of a curt speech made to the Kentuckians in relation to cur appointment of an internal revenue collector. The president is advised that the congressman makes it a point to shoot his man in the head, and as, according to Conkling, he is very bard headed, he is in no danger.

If there was ever a state in which the mail facilities needed the attention of competent men in that department Texas certainly is the one. The accumulation of mail matter in some offices where inexperienced mea have been put in charge, is simply astounding. It is barely possible that Secretary FRELINGHUYSEN is composing chasing a commodity from an innoa diplomatic note as long as his own cognomen, which by due course of mail will reach the government at Mexico. In any other government under the sun the insult would have been atoned or thousands of armed soldiers would be marching to the border. It is to the shame of the republic that there is no protection afforded its citizens or its flag, by land or sea, in any part of the world. The most insignificant nation of the family of nations would not submit to such an outrage upon its own representative. The Republican party has always had a great deal of work to do, that only a man of very bad manners could do, and as long as BUTLER was a Republican the his way of doing it from these whose work he did. When Republicans take exceptions to his manners now they should remember the babits acquired in their service and enforced by the duties they impose I cannot easily be laid off. BUTLER may sometimes do good work in a bad way, but it is good work all the same, and, taking that into account, we can pardon him if he sometimes falls short of the true asthetic standard."

Making Bread Dear.

The North American Review for July contains an article from the pen of HENRY D. LLOYD of Chicago, under the above caption, in which he discusses the evils of "corners" and their influence upon the health as well as the financial condition of the masses. He shows that the Chicago board of trade exercises a larger influence in the markets, and upon the prices of Now that the city has taken charge staple articles, than the law of supply and demand, which, according to the ing influence in all commercial should be used in completing the work. stock Exchange, building railroads on Wall street and picking cotton on THE friends of DAVIS DAVIS Who Hanover square. "These exchange ," air. No one can understand the "corner" who does not comprehend the de-centrated into vast establishments, and these are passing under the rule of bosses and syndicates. The markets, about a ball of fire arising from the like political parties, are run by the machine. The people are losing the power of making prices as well as nominations. The Free Breakfast Taserved in Kansas City last Sunday and | ble pays tribute to some clique, whether railroad pool, trades-union, match pended. The meat markets, the milk monopoly, coal combination, pottery tariff infant, or board of trade corner, on pretty much everything upon it. all were hermetically scaled. The The coffee market of the country has man who went home Saturday night lately gone out of the region of unorganized supply and demand into the hands of coffee exchange, with all the modern improvements for speculation. A price factory to make the quotations of butter and cheese has just been esductive influence of the eigarette, tablished in New York. It deals in brokers' eggs as well as hens' eggs, and has all the approved facilities to enable it to count and sell the chickens that are not yet hatched out of eggs that are not yet laid."

These corners affect the price of livand disease by curtailing the supply and enhancing the price necessaries of life.

They are vicious and heartless in their dealings with their victims who are allured in their net by the desire to acquire sudden wealth. Purcent speculator, they place it beyond his power to comply with the terms of his bargain, by buying up all the surplus in the country. They disturb the transportational arteries of the country, cause vessels to lie idle in the ports and block the warehouses and depots with their surplus until it is impossible to handle the products that they do not absolutely control. They exercise such an influence upon the courts by reason of their wealth, that a decree against them is impossible. Such is the picture drawn of this monster by one in the midst of its dealings and familiar with its workings. There seems no remedy outside of governmental intercession, and its authority to act in the matter is questionable. Public sentiment should set its face against the men who engage in this trary to public policy and good morals.

El Paso Times: Mexican nickels are three for a dime on the street cars going down to Paso de Norte, and two for a dime when paying fare to return. Even in Mexico the United States coin in exchange for goods commands near the same premium over their own that it does here.

Brenham Banner: The wife of Charley Banks, colored, of this city, in preparing supper Thursday night, put a small quantity of "Rough on Rats' in her bread mistaking it for yeast powder. A hearty supper was partaken of by Charley, his wife and child, soon after all three were taken seriously ill, vomiting very freely. Dr. Williams was called in to attend them and reports them doing well.

Sherman Courier: Branch Bennette, Esq., living about twelve miles south of Sherman, sowed about 150 acres of oats last spring, and has been threshing them the past week. One piece of seven acres, sowed, cut, and threshed separately, was marked a few days ago, and yielded the extraordinary amount of 135 bushels per acre, as hauled from the thresher and weighed on the scales at Van Alstyne by the purchasers.

Dublin Enterprise: Quite a serious accident befell Will Whittenburg last Saturday evening. He came to town and buying among other things, six pounds of blasting powder and some matches, placed them in a bucket in the wagon and started home, while driving along he noticed that the matches had ignited and attempted to jump out of the wagon, but before he could do so the powder exploded and besides as-i-ting him out of the wagon. burned his hands and side quite
